Clothing & Layers

Alaska's summer days are mild and bright, with cool mornings and evenings. The key is layers—so you can adjust easily throughout the day.

- Lightweight base layers
- Long-sleeve shirts and comfortable pants
- Fleece or insulated jacket
- Comfortable shoes for the lodge and travel
- Warm hat or beanie • Sunglasses and sun protection

On the Water

Our guides provide all fishing gear and equipment. You just bring yourself.

- Comfortable waterproof footwear
- Moisture-wicking socks
- Light gloves (optional)
- Small day bag for personal items

Evenings at the Lodge

After a day on the water, evenings at Steamboat Bay are about comfort, great food, and easy conversation.

- Casual club wear for dinner
- A cozy sweater or light jacket for time on the deck or by the fire
- Swimwear for the hot tub or sauna

Optional Personal Items

- Favorite camera or binoculars
- Reading material or journal
- Personal toiletries
- Reusable water bottle

Relax, We've Got the Rest

Your room will be fully stocked with plush robes, hair dryer, coffee and tea service, and all the essentials for your stay. We'll handle your gear, fish processing, and transfers, so you can focus on what really matters: the adventure, the view, and the memories you'll take home.
